

CAPLA/CALEP LIAISON COMMITTEE

Guiding Principles

In recognition of the unique identities and contributions that CAPLA and CALEP (“the Associations”) bring to the oil and gas industry, there is opportunity to foster more effective collaboration and communication between the Associations for their mutual benefit. We believe this will help to raise the profile of the land profession and enhance its contributions to the industry.

The Associations agree that the purpose of this liaison is to enhance the reputation of the land profession.

The Associations acknowledge that the intent of working together is to ensure alignment and provide a common voice on industry and regulatory issues that reflect each Association’s unique perspective. To support this goal, the Associations will endeavour to share any information, opportunities for input, or feedback that may impact the land profession. Neither Association will represent the land profession on behalf of the other without the other Association’s knowledge and agreement.

The Associations are committed to each other’s success within the land profession. Each Association will actively seek out and support the other’s input when identifying new opportunities to educate and/or influence their members, the industry, regulators, government, or media.
